Who Does the Foundation Creating Changes Nederland Help?

We provide care to the children of the Hill Tribes and their families. Many of you may not know who the “hill tribe” people are. Hill Tribes refers to the eight distinct ethnic groups, or tribes, literally trapped within the hills of northern Thailand. They have no place to go, no rights, no citizenship and some may think...no hope. But, not this foundation. Despite the seemingly insurmountable challenges, “The Foundation Creating Changes Nederland” strives to provide balance to children and families who were given an unbalanced beginning. Each family is different and so are their needs. Many of the children that receive care from The Foundation Creating Changes Nederland are born to drug addicted parents, or are products of rape, and all have lived in dire, unimaginable circumstances. Beyond providing basic necessities to these children, The Foundation Creating Changes Nederland works with families to ensure that the children are placed in nurturing and safe environments.

*Once you choose Hope,
Anything is Possible.*
